

United States To Stand Firm; German Disavowal Not Regarded Sufficient

Sinking of Unarmed Eagle Point Adds To Proof That A General Underwater Campaign Is Being Carried On—Investigations Now Under Way.

Washington, March 30.—Any expectation that the administration will recede from its determination to break off diplomatic relations with Germany if it is proved a German submarine attacked the Sussex, as was rumored, has been dissipated, it was stated today, by news of the attack on the steamer Eagle Point.

Only prompt and complete settlement of the whole submarine issue can prevent the threatened rupture—and there are officials who believe such a settlement more likely after relations have been broken off than before.

Adds To Proof.
The sinking of the unarmed Eagle Point, with one American aboard, simply adds to the proof that a general underwater campaign in defiance of international law has been undertaken, officials believe.

If this is so, it must end and end quickly, if the United States is to continue to deal with Germany. Disavowal of single instances will not suffice—nor will reparation and punishment of guilty commanders be accepted.

Must Cease Attacks.
Immediate cessation of such attacks and settlement of the submarine issue in all its phases, including the abrogation of the armed merchantmen decree of March 1, may prevent the break.

But many officials are not prepared to believe Germany will make such concessions in short order.

Double Investigation.
Double investigation of recent marine disasters involving Americans is under way. In the first place, American officials in England and France are seeking to determine definitely, on responsible evidence, whether German submarines actually are guilty of re-opening illegal warfare.

Secondly, Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, is seeking, informally, information from Germany whether her submarines attacked the Sussex, Englishman, Manchester Engineer and Eagle Point.

Expect Affidavits.
Many affidavits in the various cases are expected soon but the most conclusive evidence—aside from a possible German admission of responsibility—is momentarily anticipated from the naval and military attaches assigned to examine the wrecked Sussex. Ambassador Gerard has not yet replied to the inquiry Secretary Lansing made for details within a short time after the channel packet, Sussex, was attacked.

German Ambassador Von Bernstorff called at the state department at noon today and spent a few minutes with Counselor Polk. It was made known afterward that his visit concerned pending commercial questions and that the recent destruction of ships bearing Americans was not discussed.

Condition Of Kinney Is Serious

Alonzo Kinney, aged 65, of East Vine street, was in a very critical condition at his home last night and the end was momentarily expected. Some time ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and owing to his advanced age he steadily grew weaker, lapsing at times into unconsciousness.

His daughter, Mrs. Bertie Collins, of Zanesville, arrived in the city Thursday and is at his bedside. The other children have been summoned to the home in anticipation of the end.

Appointment Is Confirmed

Washington, D. C., March 30.—The senate last evening confirmed the following Ohio postoffice appointments:

Logan—Homer G. Hansel, Steubenville—H. H. McFadden, Dresden—John E. McFarland. Hansel's confirmation was held up for a time. A fight was made on him, based on the allegation that as a member of the Logan school board he was instrumental in getting Catholic teachers out of their places. At Steubenville, McFadden will succeed Richard Gilson, whose resignation was called for because he was running for county sheriff while he held the postmastership.

KELLY ARRESTED

Dan Kelly was arrested last night and lodged in the City prison on a charge of intoxication. His was the second arrest of the week on this charge.

Miss Mary Louise Winters, who is attending school at the Oberlin conservatory, is in Coshocton, spending the spring vacation with her mother, Mrs. Walter Winters.

Noise Of Mighty Conflict Heard

From early morning till late in the afternoon there were grounds for the belief that Villa was operating some of his rapid fire guns in various parts of the city.

The sharp reports, however, were in connection with Mrs. Coshocton's campaign of spring housecleaning which is being conducted with great zeal. Thursday seemed to be devoted largely to a spirited assault upon dusty rugs and carpets.

Samuel Bordenkircher, of Cleveland, will be the guest of George Bordenkircher, South Lawn avenue, Sunday.

Coshocton On Water Wagon

Mayor Richardson is having it easy this week. From all appearances Coshocton has decided to climb on the water wagon as there has been but one arrest for intoxication this week.

Owen Mahan fell off the wagon Wednesday night and before he climbed on again was nabbed and taken to the police station. He pleaded guilty before Mayor H. L. Richardson Thursday morning and on payment of his fine and costs was released.

Sheet Mill Activity At Newcomers

It is stated on good authority that Pittsburg capitalists are interested in a project to revive the sheet mill industry at Newcomers town.

It is said that an option has been secured on the old sheet mill site and that a committee, composed of men, whose names are not given out, were in Newcomers town last week going over the ground with a view to purchasing the property which is now owned by Howard Backs.

Newcomers After New Glove Plant

Newcomers town may soon have a glove plant. This report comes from one of the prominent Newcomers town business men who declares that a committee appointed to take care of the proposition was in Coshocton last week in regard to the matter.

Communication last night with the officials of the two local glove factories gave no light on the matter as they claimed to know nothing of the move.

Abbott On The Border

Squire E. G. Abbott and his sons are anxiously awaiting some word from their son and brother Don Abbott who is now in the U. S. Infantry somewhere near the Mexican line.

Squire Abbott has not heard from his son for almost six weeks. At last report he was in Company B of the 1st Infantry and was stationed at Douglas, Arizona. At that time according to Donald's letter, the Mexican situation was "getting pretty warm."

Young Abbott enlisted at Columbus, O., last fall and two weeks later was transferred to Douglas, Arizona.

Moving Van Kept Busy Thruout Present Week

April first is generally synonymous with spring moving, and in order to obtain prompt service from the moving and transfer companies, many forehanded persons make arrangements to change their places of residence a few days, at least, previous to that date. Speeder Is Demolished By C.A.&C. Work Train

W. N. Unroe had a narrow escape from death shortly before noon Thursday on the C. A. & C. railroad about a quarter of a mile from Blissfield when his gas line speeder was struck and totally demolished by a work train. Unroe jumped and escaped uninjured.

Unroe, whose home is in Mt. Vernon, was enroute to Trinway in discharge of his duties when the accident occurred. He was rounding a curve at a high rate of speed when he saw the train a short distance ahead on the straight track backing towards him.

Miners To Observe Holiday; Session Opens At Zanesville

Miners in the Coshocton county mines as well as the other districts generally throughout the United States will observe Saturday as a holiday and for that day the mines will lay idle.

Saturday, April 1, is the anniversary of the signing of the 8 hour day agreement which occurred April 1, 1898.

Sub-District Secretary E. P. Miller announced last night that the local miners and operators would not hold their conference until after the miners and operators in the eastern Ohio and Cambridge fields had held their meets.

"In the meantime," however, he declared, "the local mines will be operated until an agreement is reached."

Americans Thot To Be Assisting Mexican Outlaw

Department of Justice Agents Investigate Allegations That Villa Is Being Aided By Germany—May Betray Bandit For Handsome Reward Offered.

Washington, March 30.—Department of justice agents, following a trail that is said to lead to American sources of supply for Villa, has uncovered evidence in New York and other cities which they believe, when fully developed, will justify the filing of charges within a short time.

The allegation often made that Villa has received aid from German sources also is being investigated, but no indications have been given as to whether any evidence has been found.

The department is disinclined to act on its evidence that American money and supplies have gone to Villa while it is in the stage that will involve only subordinates. It intends to pursue the trail, if possible to the men higher up.

Conflicting Reports.
Advices in the nature and extent of the revolutionary movement said to be led by Felix Diaz in southern Mexico continue to conflict as to facts.

Diplomatic dispatches from European legations in the Mexican capital said the movement, led by Diaz himself was assuming formidable proportions and was distinctly anti-American. On the other hand, government investigators have reported they had good reasons to believe Felix Diaz is not in Mexico at all, but hiding in the U. S., probably in New Orleans.

May Betray Villa.
El Paso, March 30.—Military men made no secret of their belief today that Francisco Villa had slipped thru the cordon of American troops and Carranza forces.

Gasoline, forage, canned goods and flour will go forward as soon as the orders are received. Meanwhile Major Elliott, department quartermaster is moving supplies in great quantities to Columbus, N. M., where they are carried in motor truck trains over the Mexican route to the army base below Casas Grandes.

Little Balloon Goes On Voyage

The March winds and balmy weather of Sunday and Monday brot to H. F. Davis, of near Orange, a message from Senecaville.

Tuesday morning Mr. Davis found on his farm a small yellow balloon with a card attached which bore the name "Chas. Mey. Senecaville, O." and was dated March 27.

Evidently the balloon had drifted north carried by the March winds until it finally descended on Mr. Davis' farm.

Bowery Will Retain Name

New York, March 29.—The Bowery will keep its famous old name for a while longer, at least, notwithstanding efforts of local businessmen who think their trade is injured by the reputation of the street. The board of aldermen yesterday decided unanimously against any action upon the petition of the Bowery Realty and Businessmen's association to change the name of the thoroughfare. The petition did not suggest any other name as a substitute.

Grocers, Here's Tip, Be Polite To Customers

Cleveland, March 29.—Grocers must be polite to their women customers even if the latter do get peeved and make the fur fly. Mrs. Anna Paszkanis complained to Prosecutor Russick that grocer emptied a sack of flour on her head after she had hit him with a milk bottle.

"I accused him of shortchanging me one cent on a bottle of milk and he insulted me," said Mrs. Paszkanis. "So I struck him on the head with a milk bottle."

"Then he emptied a sack of flour on me after which I went outside and smashed his store window."

Russick said he would not arrest the grocer provided he pay the woman's doctor bill. She hurt her hand breaking the window.

FIX HIS NAME AND FACE.

Recipe of a Politician For Remembering His Acquaintances.

In the American Magazine a writer says:

"My acquaintance was large, and I was not only embarrassed, but annoyed and hurt, by my failure to remember much more prominent men."

"One day in a hotel lobby a member of congress from my state, who had been in congress for ten years, spoke to me heartily, and as I shook hands with him I committed the unpardonable error of asking him who he was. He happened to be a man of good sound common sense, as well as a good politician, and here is what he said to me, after he led me away to a secluded corner:

"Remembering new acquaintances is a habit quite easily formed. There are 14,000 voters in my district, and I can speak to four-fifths of them by their first names. Ordinarily, when you are introduced to a man or when you see him at a distance, you hear his name, but your mind is on something else." When his name is pronounced to me I have firm grip on his hand and am looking at the color of his eyes with my whole power of mind focused on that one combination of name and face. If the thing is done faithfully there is not one chance in a hundred that anything can blot out the memory in ten years."

The Police System.

The police system, being almost entirely municipal in its character, has gradually developed with the growth of cities. In London a night watch was appointed in 1233 to proclaim the hour with a bell before the introduction of clocks. The old watch system was discontinued and a new police on duty day and night commenced Sept. 29, 1829.

Pittsburg Having First Real Flood

Pittsburgh, March 29.—Pittsburgh is having its first flood of the year today. The swollen Allegheny and Monongahela rivers passed the danger stage here of 22 feet at an early hour and continued to rise rapidly. Warned by the weather bureau, merchants along the rivers were preparing for the rise and little damage is expected to result.

RELATIVES IN LAW.

A Little Advice That May Help to Make Things Pleasant.

If I were giving counsel to the husband and wife who would make each other happy and hold each other's love I would suggest that neither call the attention of the other to the disagreeable qualities of the family of either.

"My husband loves my people as if they were his own," a wife told me. "It makes me so happy!"

I doubt if he did love her people very dearly, but he overlooked those characteristics which a more selfish man would have resented. If it was what a schoolboy would call a "bluff" it was a gloriously unselfish one.

Most of us can stand the tempers and idiosyncrasies of our own when we alone have to bear them. It is when we see them through the eyes of a third person that they become unendurable. That is perhaps one reason why so few roofs are large enough to cover two families.

If each "in-law" exercised toward the members of the household into which he or she married the same pardoning love that is exercised toward one's own the aspersions cast upon the mother-in-law would die a natural death because they would have nothing on which to feed.—Virginia Terhune Van de Water in Mother's Magazine.

WHIRLIGIG BEETLES.

These Four Eyed, Six Legged Creatures Are Expert Swimmers.

More than likely you have watched him skating in "figures 8's" and all sorts of elaborate designs in quiet pools along a stream or on the edge of a lake. He will turn this way and that, describing one graceful curve after another, and then dart off in a straight line when he's frightened. He's speedy, as well as graceful. He's the whirligig beetle.

He has six legs, two longer ones in front and two pairs of short, flat paddles behind. These paddles make him an expert swimmer. His front legs, stretched out, look like arms.

Nature was also generous in giving him two pairs of eyes. With one pair he looks at objects on top of the water, and with the other pair he keeps watch for prey or fish below.

There are something less than 300 species of whirligig beetles and they're centered in all parts of the world. All summer you'll see their shiny bodies skating in spiral tracks and in curves on the surface of pools and sluggish streams.—Philadelphia North American.

Cheate and the Green Bag.

Very few of our lawyers carry the green bags which were once a badge of that profession.

"I think the sight of such a bag once kept Joseph H. Cheate from coming to Philadelphia to make a speech," Mr. Conlen said.

Mr. Conlen and another lawyer had gone to New York to invite the ex-ambassador to England to deliver an address in Philadelphia. Mr. Conlen's companion carried a green bag, which he laid upon Mr. Cheate's table, evidently to the great lawyer's annoyance.

"What do you carry in that thing?" he asked.

"I have some law books," the young Philadelphia attorney replied.

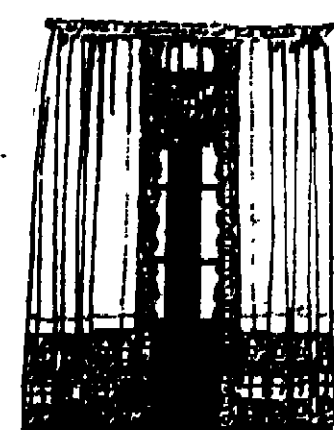

"When I was a young lawyer," Mr. Cheate said rather coldly, "I was taught to carry my law in my head."

And the invitation was declined.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Lost Life Job; Sues

New York, March 29.—That Henry Edwards Huntington, nephew of the late Collis P. Huntington, discharged his confidential secretary, Robert Taylor Varnum, after the secretary had offended Mrs. Huntington, is indicated in a suit brought by Varnum in the supreme court.

Varnum is suing for $86,540, alleging that after once quitting Huntington's employ, "for good and sufficient reasons," he went back in 1912, on the defendant's agreement to employ him for "full term of the defendant's life," at $10,000 per annum, and that Varnum abandoned his law practice to do so.

A demand for a bill of particulars was filed by the plaintiff today. Among other things, the defendant is asked to state "in what way the plaintiff conducted himself so as to annoy and offend the defendant's wife."

Mrs. Huntington was Collis P. Huntington's widow when she married his nephew a few years ago.

Agitators Are Removed

London, March 29.—Six leaders of a body calling itself the "Lyde workers' committee," which has been attempting to foment strikes among munitions workers on the Clyde, have been removed from the district by the military authorities.

Dr. Christopher Addison, parliamentary under secretary for munitions, in making this announcement in the house of commons today, added that the committee in particular had attempted to stop work in factories where large guns are made, and had succeeded in five cases. The strikers bore no relation to industrial conditions, he said, and were denounced by trades union leaders. He said their object was political.

Will Farm Vacant Lots

Columbus, March 29.—Over 800 vacant lots in Columbus will be farmed by local people this year under the supervision of the department of public recreation. Director Arthur Raymond says already over 1000 applicants have asked the privilege of cultivating a lot, but shortage of funds will prevent the department's accommodating all of them.

Last year the department supervised the tilling of 600 lots and the value of the crops raised was $22,000, Raymond says. The cost to the recreation department in getting the gardens under way was $1400.

Soup Poisoner Sends Letters

Chicago, March 29.—The series of ironical letters with which Jean Cronos, charged with poisoning the soup served at a banquet to Archbishop Mundelein in Chicago five weeks ago enlivened newspaper readers, recently was resumed, it was learned today.

The letters were directed to the police department at New York, but were not made public, according to Charles Furthmann, of Chicago, who has been directing the search for Cronos.

"The new missives were as taunting of police as those sent to a New York newspaper," said Mr. Furthmann. "The first letter came from Richmond, Va., and while we had that city flooded with detectives, another came from Atlantic City. The third was postmarked Charleston, S. C. Since then he has been silent."

Recovers From Strange Sickness

New York, March 29.—Dr. A. C. Perceil, of Brooklyn, a sleeping sickness victim, is almost well again, after nearly a year and a half of invalidism, according to Dr. Elmer Lee, his physician.

"Doctor Perceil spends the greater part of his time in a chair by a sunny window receiving friends," Doctor Lee says. "He is planning a dinner and reception for his friends as soon as he is strong enough to celebrate the first recovery from the sleeping sickness on record."

HANGING PICTURES.

This is a Task That Should Produce Artistic Results.

In going over one's pictures eliminate all but the choicest and best beloved and try to group together the pictures whose subjects are somewhat related or which have a similarity in frames. Indeed, even when subjects are closely related it is not possible always to hang pictures together owing to a too great difference in the kind of frames. As a rule, any room looks better, especially small rooms, where only one color frame is used on all pictures, but if this is not possible then the next best thing is to keep all of the pictures in gilt frames in one part of the room, all of the dark framed pictures on another wall, etc.

Also one can get the best results by separating water colors and prints, and engravings or etchings should, of course, always be hung apart from other pictures. Another point frequently overlooked is the wisdom of putting the darker pictures on the wall that receives the best light from windows and contrariwise the gilt framed pictures of lighter subjects where they may serve to brighten a dark part of the room.

Finally do not crowd the walls. Hang pictures well in line with the eyes of a person of average height and, of course, choose plain walls, tinted or unpainted, for backgrounds.—Allan Argus.

BILL WOULD ACT AGAINST CANADA

Washington, March 29.—Any restriction imposed by another nation on immigration from the United States would automatically become operative as a reciprocal restriction, under a provision written into the Burnett immigration bill today by the house. The amendment was submitted by Representative Humphrey, of Washington, who cited specifically a Canadian order in council barring laborers from entering Canada thru British Columbia. Discussion will be continued Thursday.

Representative Humphrey, author of the amendment, declared 63 per cent of the applicants for charity in Seattle last winter were foreigners, and the United States "ought not to permit British Columbia to make this country a dumping ground for her laborers."

Representative Burnett, author of the bill, said that should the measure be vetoed because of the literacy test, as have its predecessors, he will continue the fight at the next session.

FORBIDDEN FRUIT

She sacrificed herself—this woman. She gave up all! Made of herself a martyr for the love of a man. And then he too, spurned her. But far sharper than a serpent's sting is the ingratitude of man; the failure to look behind the material things and see dazzling white the glorious purity of a saintly wife and mother.

"She plucked, she ate, he, too should share the shame."

INDOOR LIFE MAKES FAT

Try Oil Of Korein To Keep Weight Down, Or To Reduce Superfluous Fat.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, a fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 to 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any person who is satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to Page & Lorenz or to a good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin is less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial.

YES—IT IS POSSIBLE TO STOP RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is a tormenting and stubborn malady. In some cases it yields to treatment which is without avail in other cases.

The darting pains, lame muscles or stiffened joints only disappear by gradually expelling the uric acid, and so many thousands have been relieved by the blood-enriching oil-food in Scott's Emulsion that you should give it a faithful trial. Scott's Emulsion acts as a powerful blood-purifier by increasing the red corpuscles and it strengthens the organs to carry off the acids which cause the trouble.

Try Scott's Emulsion. It cannot harm. It has helped thousands and may be exactly what you need. No Alcohol.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful stuff will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

At Once! Stops Stomach Misery And Indigestion

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sou' gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: "Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear."

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—you stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

FORBIDDEN FRUIT

She sacrificed herself—this woman. She gave up all! Made of herself a martyr for the love of a man. And then he too, spurned her. But far sharper than a serpent's sting is the ingratitude of man: the failure to look behind the material things and see dazzling white the glorious purity of a saintly wife and mother.

"She plucked, she ate, he, too should share the shame."

In five vivid and absorbing parts with PAULA SHAY featured, supported by EVERETT BUTTERFIELD and a splendid cast. —A story of heredity in which a woman's supreme sacrifice mercilessly bares the soul of man and woman.

LURE OF THE STAGE.

A Greater Danger to Young Men Than to Young Women.

I genuinely believe that the stage is a place of greater danger to young men than to young women. This is a surprising statement, you think? I defend it by saying that the actor is liable to flitter away his time. He plays a few hours a day, and for the remainder of the time he "rests." He doesn't need so much rest. He needs work and study, and if he doesn't have them there will be a rapid disintegration of character. There was never a truer badge than that concealing illness, and the location of the devil's work shop.

But girls can find and do find more to do. They nearly all sew. It is great economy of time and of purse for them to do so. Cloth is cheap, and if they can fashion it into blouses and lingerie and into simple gowns they are there by the galloons. Girls are rather more industrious than men. I have noticed that the girls in a company employ their time well. They read and study. I have never known but one young actor—no, two—who studied.

The player should be a constant student. He needs to know music and painting and sculpture and languages and literature. It requires a lifetime to learn all that he should know of the collateral arts.—Edith Wynne Mathison in Theater.

OUR NATIONAL FLAG.

Various Occasions When It Was Flown For the First Time.

The first display of the national flag at a military post was at Fort Schuyler, on the site of the present city of Rome, N. Y. The fort was besieged early in August, 1777. The garrison was without a flag, so one was made according to the prescription of congress by cutting up sheets to form the white stripes, bits of scarlet cloth for the red stripes, and the blue ground for the stars was made from a piece of the blue cloak belonging to Captain Abraham Swartwout of Dutchess county, N. Y. This flag was unfurled over the fort on Aug. 3, 1777.

The national flag was first unfurled in battle on the banks of the Brandy wine, Sept. 11, 1777. The flag was first hoisted over a foreign stronghold June 28, 1778, when Captain Rathbone of the American sloop of war Providence captured Fort Nassau, on the Bahama Islands.

Captain Paul Jones was the first man to display the American flag on an American vessel. This flag was made by the women of Portsmouth, N. H., for the Ranger, which was fitted out at that port for Captain Jones. The Ranger sailed from Portsmouth on Nov. 1, 1777.

Caring for roses and other flowering shrubbery includes judicious pruning to remove dead and superfluous canes as well as spraying against the many insects which attack them. As William Waldorf Astor, the great grandson of John Jacob Astor, the famous fur trader, he inherited many millions. He is the leading property owner in New York City, and his income is said to be one of the largest in the world. He became a naturalized British subject in 1899, and had then lived in England for nearly nine years. Baron Astor was born in New York March 31, 1848. He married Mary Dahlgren, of Philadelphia, and had two sons and a daughter. One of the sons, Waldorf Astor, is a member of Parliament and prominent in English affairs. Baron Astor served in the New York Legislature twice, and was U. S. Minister to Italy for three years. Avowing his dissatisfaction with American society, he went to England, leased a famous mansion and settled down to be a British subject. Later he purchased Cliveden, near Windsor, Castle. Baron Astor preferred to make his way in London, not as a man of society, but as a man of letters. He wrote poetry and verse, and has written several books. Much has been written and pictured about his ambition to become a peer of the realm. He was on intimate terms with the late King Edward, but the latter died without giving a sign. During the present great war, Baron Astor has contributed heavily to the British cause, and when he was named for the peerage by King George, his name was accompanied by others who had responded to Britain's call in the European crisis.

A Girl of Tennessee

By DWIGHT NORWOOD

After the close of the war between the states certain young men of the north—a number of them had served in the Union army—thought that a fine opportunity offered to go south, buy some of the plantations that were to be had for a song and grow up with the country under the new system of free labor.

I was one of these deluded beings. I say deluded, for the south needed fully a decade to right itself after the scourge of war and the change from slave to free labor. However, this has nothing to do with my story. I had been a soldier during the war and had campaigned in the region of Tennessee which takes in the Cumberland plateau. An admirer of mountain scenery, I had fallen in love with this country and aimed when peace came to settle there.

One day I was riding along the base of the mountain, aimed with drafts on Louisville with which to buy a small farm, when I overhauled a couple in a buggy, a man about thirty and a girl perhaps twenty. I made some inquiries of the man and judged at once from his want of the dialect of the region that he didn't belong there. The girl was evidently indigenous to the country, not only from her looks, but her manner of speech.

The man told me that he was bent on the same errand as I—he was looking for a farm. I was some time getting on to the relationship between him and the girl, but at last learned that the night before he had stopped at her father's house. In the morning when he continued his journey she said she wished to visit a friend in Chattanooga and insisted on going with him. Since there was a vacant seat in his buggy, he could not well refuse to take her.

For the sake of company I rode directly behind the couple and had ample opportunity to observe them. It soon became evident to me that the girl was not a welcome traveling companion to the man. An unlettered "poor white" country girl, she could not talk on any subject that would interest him. Besides, something—I know not what—indicated that her presence troubled him. He was constantly making excuses for parting company with her, but they all failed to enable him to get rid of her.

Finally when evening came he told her that he was intending to bivouac for the night and she must find a house in which to sleep. She looked at me appealingly and said: "Stranger, what you going to sleep?" "I don't know. Why do you ask?" "If you uns and he uns are going to sleep in the open reckon I mought sleep near by."

I saw that this was an invitation in her crude way for me to constitute myself a chaperon, and I could not resist her appeal. I said I would be one of a bygone party, and we all stopped where there was water, and as each one of us had something eatable for a luncheon we ate our supper and soon after dark found soft spots on which to sleep. I had a blanket, which I offered the girl, but she declined it, wrapping a shawl about her shoulders instead.

Puzzled as to the reason for the desire of the girl to stick to her fellow traveler, I lay awake thinking about it. Presently I heard the man breathe as if asleep. I thought I heard a sound come from where the girl was sleeping, some fifty feet distant. I looked in that direction and saw her silhouette against the star line. With out the slightest sound she disappeared to the eastward, which was toward the mountain.

What did it all mean? The man had all day been trying to get rid of the girl, and now she had evidently shaken him. I debated in my mind whether I should notify him of her disappearance, but I had come to believe that there was more between them than appeared on the surface, and my sympathies were rather with her than with him. So I lay still and said nothing. After awhile I dreamed.

I am a light sleeper and presently was awakened by a movement of the man who was close beside me. He was getting up stealthily and I saw in the dim light that he had his hand on a rifle.

"What are you going to do?" I asked. He clapped a hand on my mouth and whispered: "Don't wake that girl. I'm a revenue officer and am going to capture a still a short distance from here up in the mountains. She has suspected me from the night I stopped at her father's house and has stuck to me ever since. I fancy she thinks I'm going to trap some one in whom she has an interest. Keep still while I sleep away."

"You're too late my friend," I said.

"Nostricola" Fine For "Stuffy" Head Colds Or Catarrh

You must try NOSTRIOLA. A small trial size tube, which you can get at any drug store will be enough to show what it will do.

NOSTRIOLA is certainly fine for Colds, Croup, Nasal Catarrh, Hay Fever and kindred affections. You just apply a little to nostrils and at once, head is clear as a bell, you breathe freely and distinctly feel your cold breaking up and leaving you.

The nostrils and the air passages are the breeding places for disease-breeding germs. When the membranes are sore and inflamed, you catch cold easily, and colds lead to Catarrh.

NOSTRIOLA is intended to soothe and strengthen the linings of the air passages so they can resist and throw off colds.

Get a small tube to try. All druggists sell and recommend NOSTRIOLA.

The girl lit out some time ago. As soon as he came to believe what I had told him he went over to where the girl had been lying and confirmed what I had said.

"She's beaten me," he said ruefully. "Those country girls are not so stupid as they appear."

"Not where a lover is concerned. Ten to one you were after her best fellow."

"I reckon that's so. When I stopped at her home I was fool enough to ask if any of them knew the man I was after."

I went on to Chattanooga and on my return saw the girl again. She was very grateful to me for the part I had taken in her affair. She had just been married to the man she warned.

How to Save Wear on Auto Brakes. In the Woman's Home Companion an automobile expert says:

"Remember that gradual application of power, whether from engine or from brakes, saves wear. When you stop push out the clutch a hundred yards off, cut down the throttle and coast to your stopping place, with the brakes applied gently. Don't come down steep hills using brakes alone. Continued use heats and wears them. Slow up at the top, slip into second gear and cut off the ignition current. The engine acts as a brake or a drag. Gravity, pulling the car down, turns the engine rapidly, and it resists. On extremely steep, rough hills use first gear."

ed at her home at the dinner hour. The dainty decorations of the perfectly appointed dinner table were in pink and white. Pink roses in a dainty French basket centered the table while here and there unshaded pink candles tied with pink tulle lighted the scene. THEATRES

"THE SETTLEMENT."

Creditor and Debtor meet at the appointed time; she pays the price, and the prosector withdraws charges.

miningway shortly afterwards from tuberculosis. Stuart's suspicions are aroused by a remark of Hemmingway's erstwhile mistress, and on discovering the likeness of his son to Hemmingway, accuses his wife of adultery—she confesses, but pleads that she made the supreme sacrifice in order to save him. She sacrificed herself—this woman. She gave up all, made herself a martyr for the love of a man; and then he too spurned her. But far sharper than the serpent's sting is the ingratitude of man—the failure to look behind the material things and see dazzling white, the glorious purity of a saintly wife and mother.

"Forbidden Fruit" clearly portrays the human emotions. Never have motion pictures so mercilessly bared the soul of man and woman. It is without doubt the foremost picture of the year. But aside its tremendous pictorial effects, put aside its splendid cast and you come down to the story which grips you, even in its bare scenario form.

Showing at the Mystic today and Saturday.

SPRAYING BEST DONE IN EARLY SPRING.

Since weather conditions have delayed spraying operations this spring, farmers will find it necessary to hasten this work during the rest of the spraying period if they are to protect their trees and shrubs from scale, plant lice and other insects which cause great injury. N. E. Shaw, state nursery and orchard inspector, reports San Jose scale in every county in the State and says it is more generally distributed in cities and villages than in farming districts.

The life of a fruit tree depends on the control of this insect. Lime-sulphur solution diluted with seven parts of water, or a good soluble oil diluted with 15 parts of water, is effective if used during March or April before the leaves are expanded. The spray may be applied with a power machine or a hand sprayer. The Ohio Experiment Station entomologists state that practically 90 percent of all for the use of the city person who has the good from spraying comes from only a few trees or shrubs to spray.

that done during March, April and May. This period includes the dormant sprayings and those immediately before and after the blossoms appear. Insecticide supply houses are prepared to handle large orders at this time, and hence the season's supply should be ordered at once.

Plant lice hatch with the opening of the fruit buds and later cause knotty fruit, curled leaves and blighted twigs and branches. The dying of twigs from fire blight has been traced to attacks by these insects. They are most commonly controlled by spraying with nicotine sulphate diluted with 500 parts of water with two pounds of soft soap added to each 50 gallons. A description of these insects with details of treatment are given in the latest bulletin which is sent free from the Experiment Station at Wooster. Programs for spraying all kinds of fruit trees and small fruit are included in it along with mixtures state that practically 90 percent of all for the use of the city person who has the good from spraying comes from only a few trees or shrubs to spray.
